OGLE AND JO DAVIESS WERE AFTER JUDGES

Nomination of Edwards and Stransky Made After Fight

The nominating of Harry Edwards of Lee County and Franklin J. Stransky of Carroll County by the Republican Judicial convention at Freeport yesterday was accomplished only after a fight on the floor of the convention and the elimination of the two other candidates for the position, Judge Frank E. Reed of Oregon and Judge F. J. Campbell of Jo Daviess county. However, only one ballot was necessary for the nomination of each of the winners and the action of the convention was finally made unanimous by acclamation.

Each of the five counties in the 15th Judicial district, Lee, Ogle, Stephenson, Jo Daviess and Carroll, were represented by a full delegation, 57 delegates being seated.

Judge Clarity of Freeport and Charles M. Jenks of Savanna were chairman and secretary of the convention, both temporary and permanent.

On the motion of Attorney Clyde Smith of Lee county, the first nominations were those to succeed the late Hon. Richard S. Farrand of Lee county. On the roll of counties for nominations Carroll county passed. For Jo Daviess, Judge John Beavers nominated Judge F. J. Campbell.

Warner Nominated Edwards.

For Lee county, Attorney Harry Warner placed in nomination the name of State's Attorney Harry Edwards. Mr. Warner's nominating speech was a masterpiece of eloquence and force and won spontaneous applause from the convention.

State's Attorney Emmerson of Jo Daviess county then nominated Judge Reed in a very able speech. Stephenson county passed and the ballot was taken.

Judge Campbell received only the vote of his county, Jo Daviess, 9. Reed got the Ogle county vote of 14 and Edwards received the undivided support of Lee, 12 votes; Carroll, 8 votes, and Stephenson, 14 votes, giving him a total of 34, or 4 more votes than necessary for nomination, and Edwards was declared nominated.

On nomination for a successor to the late Judge Ralph Eaton, Carroll county nominated Stransky. Senator Turnbaugh nominated Carroll's candidate, Jo Daviess again nominated Campbell and Ogle again nominated Reed.

On the balloting for this nomination, both Jo Daviess and Ogle county having voted against Lee county's candidate on the previous ballot, the entire Lee county vote went to Stransky. Stephenson gave Stransky 10 votes, dividing the other four between Reed and Campbell. This ballot gave Stransky, 30; Campbell, 11; and Reed, 16, nominating Stransky.

Both Mr. Edwards and Mr. Stransky were called upon for speeches and the two nominees thanked the delegates warmly for the honor shown them.

Democrats Nominated.

The Democratic convention in Freeport nominated candidates from Jo Daviess and Ogle counties, Joseph Lack of Galena, and Martin H. Eakle of Forreston being chosen.

Missouri Delegates Returned Money to Lowden few Days Ago

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Mount Vernon, Ill., June 26.—Nat Goldstein and Robert E. Moore, who were delegates from St. Louis to the republican national convention, have returned the $2,500 which each was given to work in Missouri in behalf of the candidacy of Gov. Lowden of Illinois, for Republican presidential nomination, according to the statement here last night of L. L. Emmerson, who managed the governor's campaign.

In their testimony before the senate committee investigating pre-convention campaign expenses, Goldstein and Moore admitted receiving the money and said they would return it if Governor Lowden failed to get the nomination. The money was given to a man "close" to Emmerson, for delivery, before the Chicago convention ended. Goldstein and Moore later stated.

Mr. Emmerson said that he had received the checks of both "two or three days ago." He refused to discuss the matter saying he considered it closed.

Plane With Pilot and Passenger Fell

By Associated Press Leased Wire

First Clam Shells Shipped From Dixon

Clammers in the vicinity of Dixon and Grand Detour are making their first shipment of shells today. A carload of shells will be shipped from Dixon to Muscatine, Iowa, this evening and other car shipments will probably follow early next week. The clammers are receiving a fancy price for their work again this year, the shells selling for $60 per ton. Many of the clammers are not selling their catches in the first shipment, holding the shells until later in the season when they expect to receive about $70 per ton.

Onions Plentiful But Price Stays Up

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, June 26.—Onions have become a drug on the market for the first time in years, the department of agriculture reported today in its weekly market review. On the other hand potatoes are two to three times as high as a year ago and comparatively scarce.

The slight demand for onions is due the department's review says, to an over supply and to refusal of retailers to lower prices as wholesale prices decline.

HOW STAFF ARTIST PARKS SEES 'EM AT THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION

Dixon Golfers to Rockford Thursday

Next Thursday a team of golfers from the Dixon Country Club will go to Rockford to meet the Simmsville golfers in a return match. The Rockford golfers were victorious in the match played in this city a few weeks ago and the Dixon players hope to even up the score next week.

Chicago Pumps Face Real Coal Shortage

Chicago, June 26.—Chicago has enough coal, if distributed evenly, to last its using stations only three days, P. S. Corbis, city engineer, said today. One station, supplying 85 square miles, has a seven day fuel supply, the greatest of any, he said. He appealed to the public to cut the consumption of water as low as possible to save coal for the city.

RICH AUTOIST KILLED YOUTH; TRIED ESCAPE Large Chicago Crowd Threaten to Lynch Him

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 26.—Frank Cagan, 18, was killed last night by a speeding roadster by B. W. Kittredge, Evanston millionaire. Cagan's family recently moved to Chicago from Springfield.

The young man with three companions was crossing a street when the car, tearing along on a swerving course at an alleged speed of fifty miles an hour, struck him.

Kittredge who was accompanied by Harry Linden, an automobile demonstrator, of Mount Morris, Ill., looked around and then drove on. Arthur Klein, one of Cagan's companions, gave chase in a taxi and succeeded in getting on the fleeing roadster when its way was blocked by a freight train.

Kittredge turned and again tried to escape but after a run of several blocks more, Klein on the running board attracted the attention of police who blocked the way and stopped the car.

A crowd gathered and threatened to lynch Kittredge but he was taken to a station.

Contractor Anderson Injured in Collision

J. H. Anderson, carpenter and contractor, residing at 299 Morgan street, received painful bruises in an accident yesterday when the wagon in which he was riding was struck by a street car at the intersection of North Galena avenue and Everett street. The force of the impact threw him against the heavy umbrella stick on the wagon seat, bruising him considerably. Some of the contents of the wagon were spilled about on the street, but the horse and wagon escaped without damage or injury.

Dr. Willard Thompson will resume his practice Monday after a visit in Ohio, on which he was accompanied by his wife. While in Ohio he attended a medical convention.

Watts and Strub have received three new sedans for use in their taxi cab service.

Rock Falls Terrors to Play Our Maroons

The Rock Falls Terrors will come to Dixon Sunday to play off a return game with the Dixon Maroons. A few weeks ago the Maroons went to Rock Falls and were defeated by the score of 10-8. The Dixon boys are going to try to return the defeat to the Rock Falls boys. Clifford Scott will start the twirling at three o'clock sharp. There will be no admission at the gate. A good crowd and a good game will be expected.

ADJUDGED INSANE

John Bovey of this city was taken before a commission of physicians in the county court this morning and adjudged insane. He was taken to the hospital at Watertown this afternoon for treatment. About a month ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and has been in failing health for some time since which is accountable for his mental breakdown.

TO NEW OFFICES.

STABBED EACH; CRUSHED HEADS WITH IRON BAR

Captured While Telling of His Brutal Escapade Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 26.—Nolan B. Robinson, 23, fugitive from an insane hospital at Elgin, Ill., was captured here this morning and held on charges of attempting to murder his wife, their five month old baby and his parents-in-law late last night at Wheaton, near this city.

Robinson stabbed all four with skulls with an iron bar. Police reported all may die. Robinson found sitting in a railway station with his clothes covered with blood calmly discussed the attempted murders and declared he was crazed by love for his child.

Victims All Will Die.

Wheaton police reported the wife, Vera Robinson, 24, the baby, the father-in-law, L. C. Brown, a jeweler and his wife, 70 years old, cannot record.

"After I escaped from the asylum," Robinson told the police, "I phoned my wife and she refused to live with me again. So I went to the house in the night, armed with an iron bar, and broke in. My wife rushed to me and I hit her over the head. Then my mother-in-law rushed out. I held her with a blow, then hit her again to make a good job of it.

She sank to the floor. I went into the bedroom of my father-in-law who is partially paralyzed. He couldn't move so I just hit him over the head three times. The baby was lying in its crib. I hit it over the head and it never knew what happened."

Robinson then washed his hands and carried his wife more than a mile to a farmer's home before fleeing to Chicago.

AT LARGE THREE DAYS.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Elgin, Ill., June 26.—Nolan B. Robinson escaped from the Elgin state hospital three days ago. He was committed to that institution May 5 last following repeated efforts to kill members of his family.

According to the records on file at the hospital he was 22 years old at the time of commitment from Du Page county. He served in the navy from June 1918 to January 1919.

Kidnapped Baby.

His first attempt to kill was made the day following the birth of his child when he attacked his sister-in-law and his mother-in-law. When the baby was only six weeks old he kidnapped the child and fled with it to Texas where he was arrested and returned. He then was lodged in Sunnysbrook sanitarium and later removed to the county jail at Wheaton. While there he attempted to commit suicide by cutting his wrists. A few weeks later he attacked his wife after he had broken down a barricaded door at her parents' home. This assault caused the court to have Robinson placed in the state hospital.

Newlyweds Outwitted Friends This Morn

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lauer of Sublette, who were united in marriage at 5 o'clock this morning, left immediately by auto for a trip through Wisconsin. Their early marriage and departure outwitted a lot of friends who had planned a celebration.

Girl and Escort in Hold up Lost $1500

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 26.—Hazel Juergens and her escort, George Anderson, were robbed of jewelry worth $1,500 early this morning by two armed men as they said good night in the doorway of Miss Juergens' home. Her escort pleaded that he alone be robbed and was beaten over the head with a gun for answer.

AN APOLOGY

At 1 o'clock this afternoon, long before the day's news matter was gotten into type, the gas supply in the reservoirs of the gas works was exhausted, which accounted for the absence of so much news matter from today's issue of the Telegraph.

COLONY SERVICE.

Rev. Lloyd W. Walter will have charge of the Colony service at 3:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Time Telling in Stone Age - and Now

A Record of Cumulative Invention, More Marvelous Than Any Fairy Tale—How Stars and Passing Hours Were Finally Confined in Tiny Silver Casket, To Later Become Modern Watch.

What do we mean when we say "two o'clock"? Why "two o'clock" any more than "thirty-two o'clock" or "two hundred and eighty-seven o'clock"? What are hours, anyway, and why do we begin to number them in the middle of the night and then begin all over again as soon as we have counted up to twelve? Why do we mark the passage of time with such odd divisions as minutes of sixty seconds, hours of sixty minutes, days of twenty-four hours, weeks of seven days and months of twenty-eight, twenty-nine and thirty-one days?

Where do we get such strange words as Monday or November and what do they mean? The old lady who wondered how "they" ever found out the names of the stars might well wonder how "they" ever learned the names of the days and the months. Being a loyal American she might be shocked to learn that our Independence Day comes in a month named after a Roman Emperor. She might also be surprised to learn that her cook has her "afternoon off" on a day dedicated to the God of Thunder.

Mark Twain's Prophecy

Did you know that Mark Twain, the least superstitious of men, firmly believed and frequently prophesied that, having arrived on this earth in the year that Halley's comet was observed in 1835, his life would come to a close when the comet next made its appearance in 1910, and that his prophecy was fulfilled?

Have you ever realized how vitally mankind has been influenced by the movement of the sun, the moon and the stars since the very beginning of time? How did the cavemen ever know what time it was?

Have you ever stopped to wonder what would happen in the complex affairs of our modern civilization if humanity were suddenly deprived of all artificial means of telling time?

These and hundreds of other questions are answered and innumerable interesting and curious facts are given in a remarkable book entitled "Time Telling Through the Ages," an interpretative history of time telling since the dawn of civilization—now being published by Doubleday, Page & Company. This work constitutes a gift to the public and a large preliminary edition is now being distributed to public libraries throughout country and in other ways that will make it easily accessible to readers everywhere.

"As I have read the pages of this book," writes Dr. Frank Crane, the noted newspaper "editor," "I have realized as never before how fascinating is the romance of mankind's attempts, how amazingly woven together are all the threads of this tangled, baffling mechanism is this world!

A Pocket Universe

"For my little watch, just a small silver spot upon my wrist, is the child of what remote ancestors, the product of what long and struggling evolution! It is a microcosm—a universe in miniature. We trace here the long undulating line of the genesis of the timepiece. From moving shadow, down through the sundial, the clepsydra or 'water-thief,' the sandglass, the discovery of the law of the pendulum, the construction of the first rude clock-mechanism, the secret of the 'escapement,' the hatching of the 'Nuremberg Egg,' the making of a useful timepiece out of a mechanical toy and a scientific curiosity, the growth of watchmaking in France, Switzerland, and England and the advent of Yankee ingenuity in the business. 'You who love the strange and unusual may well peruse these pages, for they unfold the curious tale of cumulative invention, a much more marvelous story than any fairy tale or the doing of antique kings. The Arabian Nights are not more interesting than this account of how the stars and the passing hours were through long ages of experiment, finally confined in a tiny silver casket, and given, not to some prince for a fabulous sum, but to Everyman and for a dollar. To comprehend that compact mechanism is to grasp the scheme of things entire—history, and the dreams of men, evolution with its upward urge, the intricacies of mathematics, the mysteries of astronomy and the ordered interplay of all the wide labors of men."

Gift to the Public

Not only is the story in the book one of fascinating human-interest but the story of the book—of how it came to be produced—is, in its way equally interesting.

Ordinarily, people expect to receive gifts on their birthdays, not give them. In this case, however, one of the officials of a great manufacturing concern which was approaching its twenty-fifth anniversary, suggested to his associates that they might celebrate the occasion by giving instead of inviting gifts.

After long deliberation it was decided to make a gift that would be of educational value not alone to the entire watch and clock industry of which the manufacturer was a part and to the hundreds of thousands directly or indirectly engaged in the industry, but to the general public as well—a gift of knowledge. It taking research, of a mountain of individual pieces of information. The dramatic and fascinating story which resulted is perhaps less a study of time-telling or of time itself than of man in his relation to both.

Remarkable Pictures

In planning the illustrations for the book an artistic novelty was devised upon and the camera was called into play for a series of daring experiments in photographic illustration. Fifteen historical compositions were worked out, models were secured, costumes and settings prepared and the result was a series of illustrations that are generally conceded to be unprecedented in the field of photographic art.

a certain regular course. There came another great moment when in the gloom of the "dark ages" a monk named Gerbert, after patiently tinkering with wheels and springs in his bare cell, finally achieved some sort of clock action.

The First Watch

The world had to wait six hundred years for the next really great happening in time telling. In 1511, one of Nuremberg, an obscure mechanic monastically known as a "Nuremberg Egg"—which was the first mechanical pocket timepiece ever made. From this "egg" have been hatched all of the millions of watches produced since that day.

It was later in the same century that a young Italian named Galileo stood absorbed in the great cathedral swaying to and fro in the breeze. There was something about the swinging of that lamp that fascinated him and, timing the movement by his pulse, he finally discovered what it was. Sometimes it moved but slightly and sometimes it swung through a wide arc, but he noticed that the swing was always accomplished in exactly the same time, regardless of its length. This discovery was to revolutionize clock construction, for it led to the use of the pendulum. Now-a-days we call this principle "isochronism," which means unequal arcs in equal time.

The pioneer who introduced the clock industry into America more than two centuries later bore no resemblance whatever to the Italian youth in the beautiful old-world cathedral. It was a "whittlin' and whistlin'" Yankee, one Eli Terry, a Connecticut carpenter who had that honor. He carved clock wheels out of wood in his own home and then, mounting his horse with a clock lashed on either side of the saddle, he went about the country peddling his wares, some of which are ticked at this very moment. His was not a very heroic figure perhaps, but he was a mighty pioneer and the clock industry of America rode in on horseback with him.

His neighbors, however, shook their heads at him when he hired Seth Thomas to help him and proceeded to turn out more and more clocks.

"You are losing your mind, Eli," they told him in solemn warning. "The first thing you know the country will be so full of clocks that there will be no market for them. You are getting reckless and ruining your own business."

When the American watch industry came along in its turn half a century later, it met the same doleful predictions. A watch worker returning to his home town on a visit was asked by his neighbors what he was doing.

"I am working," said he "for a company which makes seven complete watches a day."

Great was the merriment at this reply.

"Why," one incredulous friend exclaimed, "even if you could make that many where on earth could you sell seven watches a day?" This incident occurred in 1850—within the lifetime of men now living. Today, one single company among the many now engaged in watch manufacturing, is turning out watches at the rate of twenty thousand every working day, and alone has produced more than sixty million timepieces in the short period of twenty-five years.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

A very little water in the bottom of the can keeps refuse from sticking and makes the task of the garbage man a bit easier.

Menu For Tomorrow

Breakfast—Cantaloupe, omelet, bran muffins, coffee.

Luncheon—Vegetable salad, cheese sandwiches, cherry graham pudding, tea.

Dinner—Lamb chops, new potatoes in cream sauce, buttered peas, radishes and onions, lemon ice, sponge cake, coffee.

My Own Recipes

Perhaps we must "a hundred try" to find one good melon, but a reputable fruit dealer can pick a good sweet muskmelon every time. So when buying melons the housekeeper is money ahead to trust to her dealer and let him pick her good ones.

Cheese Sandwiches

White bread
Cheese
3 tablespoons melted butter
Cut slices of bread not quite one-half inch thick. On half the slices put a thin slice of cheese. Cover with a second slice of bread. Put butter in a frying pan and fry sandwiches to a golden brown. Cook on both sides. The butter should be very hot when the sandwiches are put in.

Cherry Graham Pudding

1 egg
12 cup sugar
1-2 cup molasses
1-2 cup white flour
1 1/4 cups graham flour
1 tablespoon butter
1-2 cup water
1 teaspoon soda
2 cups stoned cherries
1-4 teaspoon salt
Beat sugar, butter and molasses together. Mix graham and white flour. Add to first mixture. Dissolve soda in water and add egg well beaten. Mix cherries thoroughly through the mixture. Turn into a buttered mold and steam 2 hours. Serve with hard sauce, sugar and cream or lemon sauce.

DID HE GET A GERMAN SCALP?

YES, SIREE! HE'S WEARING IT!

Sergeant John E. Smith and the German Scalp Which Was Grafted To His Head By German Doctors. After He Had Been Scalped By a Shell And Taken Prisoner.

N. E. A. Staff Special

Council Bluffs, Ia.—If any Yankee got a German scalp in the late argument it was Sergeant John E. Smith who lives here.

Smith not only got the scalp but he's wearing it!

And it's growing hair!

Smith was on guard in the first line trenches. Along came a grenade and blew off his hair and the skin it grew in. Smith was captured by the enemy and lived eight months in German prison camp. German doctors took the scalp from a dead German soldier and grafted it to Smith's denuded dome. The scalp they picked was slightly bald but the hair was the same color as Smith's.

"I can scratch it and everything," says Smith. "She's all my hair now."

Except for a thin red line it can't be told where Smith's head stops and the German's begins. American doctors say it was a good job.

PRESBYTERIAN PICNIC—

The Presbyterian Missionary society held its annual picnic Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Agnes Raymond. The Raymond lawn has been the scene of many delightful picnics, none pleasanter than that of Friday. Forty members and guests, including the gentlemen, partook of the excellent supper which followed a business and devotional session in charge of the president, Mrs. B. I. Hitchcock. Appropriate nature poems were given in response to roll call. A number of the gentlemen, including Prof. W. H. Coppins, Dr. Lehman, Rev. Jesse M. Tidball, and E. B. Raymond, made short talks at the close of the supper. Mrs. Dishong, a sister of Attorney Mark Keller and a guest at his home, and Mrs. Harry Zischoff, who is here from Salt Lake City, Utah, were out-of-town guests.

BUSY BEES PICNICKED—

Miss Marjorie Greer entertained the members of the Busy Bees Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school and the teacher, Miss Mildred Page, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stevens in the country on Friday afternoon. The day was delightfully spent on the lawn, where at noon a picnic dinner, replete with all sorts of good things, including ice cream and cake furnished by Mrs. Stevens, was served. There were, in addition to the class members and teacher, a few guests, Mrs. Harry Chiverton, of Dixon, and the Misses Marie Miller and Alice Hogan, neighbors of Miss Greer.

TO VISIT MOTHER—

Clarence Hackett will come from Chicago today for a visit with his mother, who is suffering from three broken ribs as the result of a fall when getting out an automobile. Mrs. Hackett is at the home of her father, William Rink. Other members of the Rink family, including Mrs. Frank Rink and daughter, Clara Elizabeth, Mrs. Bodwell, and Miss Clara Rink, who have been ill, are much improved in health.

SERVED AT WEDDING—

Mrs. Walter Smith and Miss Lucille Miller, of Dixon, Miss Maye Glessner, of Chicago, and Miss Charlotte Krug, of Ashton, were the friends who assisted in the serving of refreshments at the Stackpole-Pierce wedding of Thursday afternoon. They were further assisted by Mrs. J. E. Byington, of Rockford, and Mrs. Craig of Dixon.

TO VISIT PARENTS—

Mrs. J. J. Kleinman, formerly Miss Jennie Youngberg, of this city, is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Youngberg. The wedding of Miss Youngberg to Mr. Kleinman took place in Crown Point, Ind., on April 3rd. They are now residing in Hammond, Ind. Mrs. Kleinman will visit in Dixon for a month and her husband will come for the Fourth of July week-end.

TO PICNIC AT GRANDY—

Dr. and Mrs. Z. W. Moss, and their two nieces, the John Stager children, of Sterling, joined Mrs. Stager's house party at her cottage, Ogleside, in Grand Detour, last evening for a picnic supper. The Misses Stager have been with Dr. and Mrs. Moss all week.

PRACTICAL CLUB PICNIC—

The Practical club gave a delightful picnic at Lowell Park Wednesday, the ladies, who went for the afternoon, being joined in the evening by the gentlemen and other members of their families. Forty-five in all participated in the excellent supper, which was served at 6:30.

PALMYRA AID PICNIC—

One hundred thirty were in attendance at the Palmyra Mutual Aid Picnic, held on June 24th at Lowell Park. After the unusually good picnic dinner at noon, some of the members enjoyed the pleasures of the beach. The

GET AFTER YOUR COAL.

"Old Ben," a trade publication issued by an Illinois coal mining company, views the coal situation in a serious light, due to the car shortage, and the visible supply of coal bears
out this pessimistic view.

Unless conditions are bettered we are likely to experience greater hardship from coal shortage next winter than ever before and the wise man will do everything he can to get his winter's coal supply in his bins this summer.

Mines are running only a fraction of the time and are unable to bring more than a small portion of their capacity of coal because they cannot get cars to ship it in.

THE DESPERATE DEMOCRATS.

Are the Democrats desperate? We'll venture the opinion that they are.

They talk about a wet plank in their platform and they talk about nominating Woodrow for a third third term. What more indications of desperation could they exhibit?

The Democratic convention which in San Francisco next week will be interesting to watch. The futility if the Democratic struggle for life is and but the delegates will have a nice trip.

BADGES OF SUCCESS.

A recent writer in the Atlantic Monthly comments on the fact that boys and girls in school work for funny little things called "marks."

How about the men and women who work for funny bits of paper called dollars?

There is habit in motives as in everything else, and people who have sought marks or dollars for the things that go with them may come to seek them for themselves. But originally and normally the marks and dollars are sought only as means to ends or badges of success; and the teacher or employer who forgets what gives them value is bound to make mistakes.

There are four great ends that a person will naturally work for:

1—For the mere fun and proving one's power, whether he makes mud-pies and bonfires or books and fortunes. This is the motive back of play and it gives zest to work.

2—To satisfy his needs and cravings for such things as food and warmth and shelter and sleep.

3—To gain and maintain a mate
and a family.

4—For the good of the larger group that he belongs to an honorable place within.

These ends may not be clearly conscious, but the urge of them is there; and, though one may be sacrificed for another ones satisfaction with his work in life depends on the degree to which it tends to satisfy them all.

KILLING THE BULL.

Ramon Perez De Ayala, Spain's best known bull fighting critic, would introduce bull fighting into the United States.

That it is exciting sport most Americans will agree with Senor Ayala. Maybe as many will agree with the senor that bull fighting is no more brutal and far more worth watching than a prize fight.
But few will take the senor's view that bull fighting is all right because
"it gives the bull a chance to die heroically."

The bulls over in this part of the world don't seem to care about getting such a chance. These poor, deluded, uncivilized, un-Spanish bulls would rather die from existence

BRINGING UP FATHER.

BY GEORGE McMANUS

most impossible fiction about very decent husbands.

I confess with supreme disgust that whenever I am caught in a spasm of jealousy I never try to find a cure, because I do not want to be cured! Instead I go deliberately to work to make myself as miserable as possible in the hope that I can hurt Bob that way.

I accumulate what I call "evidence" against my husband—hoaps of it, and link it up, and get morbid about it, and then I make a secret of it, and never, never give poor Bob a chance to defend himself.

It is all most unfair to Bob and to the love which is between us, for I never can prove that my "evidence" is true and he can never prove it untrue, although he might have done so in the Searle case.

Unfairness is the core of jealousy, I suppose. Having come out of my last spasm without wrecking my happiness, I resolved never to indulge in another fit of the same kind.

I can't think why—and other wives—behave so. Perhaps we inherit some perversity from Eve which moves darkly within us for our undoing. If so, it must be very subtle—like the pull of war in the soul of man.

SEEING CLEARLY

BY ROGER W. BABSON

We who know the joys of seeing are richer than kings or millionaires. We see the color in flowers and birds, trees and fruit. We see gorgeous butterflies and sparkling jewels. We see gardens aglow with color, delicate shells, fish with their shining scales and the water that flashes in the sunshine. We stand in awe before the glory of the sunset, the wonder of the sunrise. We revel in the green of spring, the brightness of summer and the grandeur of autumn. We are so surrounded by beauty that we are often inclined to pass it by unseeing. Even when we do see these things,

If we do not see their real meaning we are partly blind. Unless we see the sunset not only as a marvel of beautiful colors, but as a gateway to God; unless we see friendship as an inspiration, love as a miracle, little children as gifts of the highest, we do not see clearly. If we do not see the ready generosity of the poor, the culture of the learned, the sacred influence of the home, the message of great books, we have missed some of the most wonderful sights in the world.

There are many who pity the blind. Perhaps those of us who have eyes but see not the hidden meaning behind all that is, are also deserving of pity.

Smile Awhile

BY LEE HINGSTON

The bridal bells are ringing their seasonable tune, the union pines are springing their "moon" and "spoon" and "June"—the merry month of roses, of bugs and sunburned noses, of busted garden hoses and grass-stained pantaloons.

Month when the learned striding in cap and gown bedight, his lips with wisdom rippling, arises in his might; he turns his facile pages and question which the sages have puzzled o'er for ages, he solves—and solves 'em right.

I leave this ringing master of talk to seek the trees, nor wot I court disaster as I stretch out at ease. I read in Earl Derr Biggers till I'm bored by "chiggers" and, darn the little diggers, they're ten times worse than fleas.

Phil Frog grinned when he spoke of Marty Mink's bad luck, to Tingaling and the twins. He really seemed to enjoy telling it. It must be an uneasy feeling, never knowing when you're going to be somebody's breakfast, and as long as Marty was around, Phil never could make an engagement for the day after tomorrow.

But now it was different. Phil was even thinking of taking his family on a summer vacation, which showed

Such is Life

On one side of the road was a library, stocked from basement to attic with books, good books, knowledge-containing books.

And great crowds of human beings walked by.

A few of them turned into the library doors.

Fewer still set themselves to the task of culling the priceless gems from out of their printed pages.

But the great majority went on their way.

Some indeed spoke of the building, called it "grand," and "beautiful," and magnificent.

But most of them didn't see it at all.

On the other side of the road, a bit farther away, was a great circus tent.

From within came the roar of animals, the yelling of crowds, and the shrill cry of the peanut vendor.

"Step right up this way and secure your tickets, one dollar only!"

And there was a mad rush to exchange dollars for bits of pasteboard. And a wilder rush to press through the opening of the tent.

Thousands of human beings piled high around the three rings as dumb animals leaped, clowns danced, and gymnasts performed feats of daring.

"Some show!" came from thousands of Mps as human beings hustled for the owl cars.

Maybe the fault lies in this: They charge no admission at the library door; they do charge at the circus tent.

Or this: The library leads to the higher

Health Advice

By Uncle Sam, M. D.

Health Questions Will Be Answered If Sent to Information Bureau U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

Q. I have burning pains in the stomach, and often it feels as tho there was a lump there. Sometimes I have cramps in the stomach and bowels, accompanied by diarrhea. At such times I have a craving for oranges. Are they injurious? I am gaining in weight.

A. This letter is typical of many which are addressed to the information editor. Surely by this time my readers should realize that only a careful medical examination by a physician could determine the nature of the trouble. It is so foolish to describe a few symptoms and expect an off-hand answer. Such an answer would be of no value whatsoever.

Q. How can a person tell if he is cured of syphilis? Will sarsaparilla bring a cure after "606"?

A. Certain tests can be carried out by a physician, or at one of the clinics in your state, which will show whether you are cured or not. Sarsapilla is of no value whatever in the treatment of syphilis. If you will send me your name and address I will be glad to send you some helpful literature dealing with this disease.

Q. My nose is always cold, and when it gets warm it gets red. Is there anything I can do to remedy the trouble?

A. This sounds like a simple request, but experience has shown that the condition is usually one which responds very little to treatment. It is suggested that you try to improve the tone of the blood vessels by applying very hot and very cold applications, rapidly alternating.

Q. What would cause a black dot before my left eye? I am also so dizzy at times. I had my eyes tested and have very good eyes.

A. I wonder did you have your eyes examined by an ophthalmologist; that is, a physician who has made a special study of the eye, or did you go to an optician or some other non-medical examiner, who merely tested your vision? There is quite a difference between these examinations, and it is the medical one you should have had.

In the morning after the garbage man has "been," I like to turn the hose into the can and rinse it thoroughly. Then turn the can upside down to drain but put it on the grass. The earth sweetens the interior of the can as nothing else except, of course, a disinfectant. Turn it right side up so that the sun will shine directly into it and when the can is needed it will be in perfectly good condition.

"OF BLESSED MEMORY"

By Edmund Vance Cooke

"Of blessed memory," the old books said:
"Of blessed memory," the old prayers read,
Referring to some prince whose breath had fled,
Some monarch, moldering with the ancient dead.

"Of blessed memory!" So say we all,
We, who have heard the fading footsteps fall
To nothingness adown the Outer Hall
And flung our hearts against the Silent Wall.

"Of blessed memory!" for now, at times,
We fold our hands and hark to whispered chimes
Of half-forgotten melodies and rimes,
Blown by some perfumed breeze from far-off climes.

"Of blessed memory!" For, as it seems
These are not vapors, shot with rainbow gleams,
But have some substance of a sort which seems
With that soul-solace born to us of dreams.

"Of blessed memory!" And so abide
Those whom we may not summon to our side,
Our hurt hearts ache, but cannot be denied
The blessed memory of those who died.

DIXON FANS TO CAMP GRANT ON MONDAY, JULY 5

Fine Boxing Show To
Be Given in Camp
Arena Then

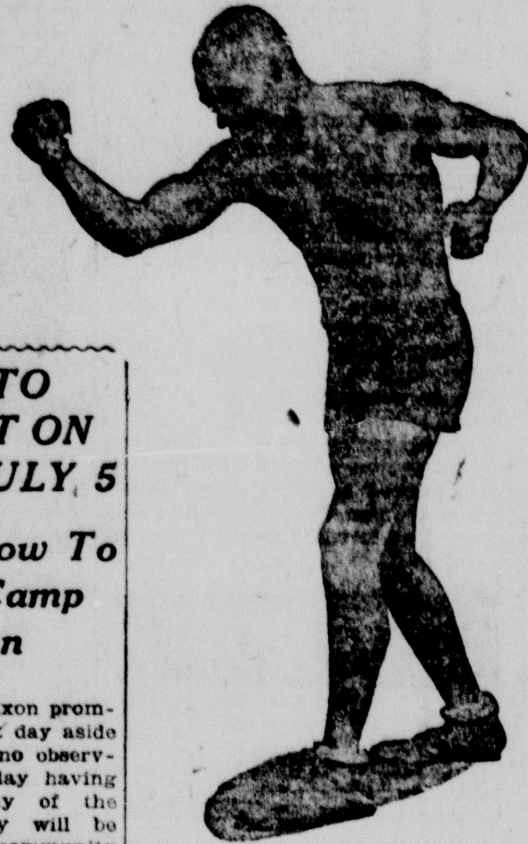

The Fourth of July in Dixon promises to be a decidedly quiet day aside from private celebrations, no observance of the national holiday having been announced. In many of the surrounding towns, the day will be observed fittingly with community picnics and programs.

Many from Dixon anticipate spending the afternoon and evening in Rockford, where another athletic program will be the feature of the day at the Camp Grant arena, beginning at 8 o'clock in the evening. Captain Charles Herrick, camp athletic officer, has secured some very good bouts for this occasion and with proper weather conditions it is expected that upward of 25,000 fight fans, men and women, will be present. During the evening, the Camp Grant band will give a concert before and during the show.

Good Bouts Programed.

The main attraction on the card which will be of considerable interest to those who witnessed the last show, is a ten-round bout between Leo Patterson, of St. Louis, colored lightweight champion and Memphis Red, of Memphis, Tenn., at 135 pounds. The St. Louis battler opposed the Camp Grant colored champion at the last show, knocking out "Spider Juice," Jeff Howard in the second of a ten-round mill. The remainder of the bill is equally strong and is as follows:

Richardson, Camp Grant, vs. Bud Clancy, St. Louis, 8 rounds, semi-wind-up, 155 pounds.
Smith, Camp Grant, vs. Bud McFadden, Sterling, 6 rounds, 148 pounds.
Boyd Grush, Mt. Morris, vs. Riley, Chicago, 6 rounds, 185 pounds.
Sammy Mandell, Chicago, vs. Kelly, Chicago, 6 rounds, 116 pounds.
Captain Hal Carr, of Camp Grant,

Memphis Red

will officiate as referee at all of the bouts.

MOTOR NOTES

PROPER CAMP FIRE AND COOKING MAKE OUTDOOR LIFE ENJOYABLE

In order that the automobile camper may fully enjoy his outdoor life, A. L. Westgard, of the American Automobile Association, has prepared the following notes on the proper way to build a camp fire and prepare food over it.

"Before starting the camp fire," says Westgard, "rape away dead leaves and mold as the latter may smolder for days after you leave camp and come to sudden life in a windstorm. Do not kindle the fire near dead wood, trees, moss or dead leaves. If possible build the fire near a big boulder as the rock will help radiate the heat.

"Gather small dry twigs or with a pocket knife shave some small sticks. Build these into a small pyramid, then build larger pieces around and over it. This will ignite readily and make a quick fire. Always use hardwood when available as this will make good coals. If windy build your cooking fire in a trench.

"Do the boiling and stewing in an open flame. When wood has ceased smoking, gather live coals at one side of the fire, removing pieces of unburned wood from among the coals. On this bed of coals do the frying, baking, broiling or roasting.

"Use only tender meat for broiling and roasting. If in haste broil, otherwise roast with frequent basting from the juices in the pan to insure proper browning. When roasting first sear the meat in the open flame, then hang it before the fire by means of a stout cord (first wetting the cord) and catch the drippings in pan below for basting.

"Fresh meat and game should be hung up until cooled through. "To keep fish in camp scale, behead and clean them. String them through the tails and hang them in a shady and dry place exposed to the breezes. As ptomaine poison lurks in fish which has softened never use fish in this condition. Do not pack fish or birds in grass unless iced.

"When using tinned provisions never allow fruit, fish, meat or vegetables to stand in the cans.

"When retiring at night bank the fire. Do not leave a big fire burning without constant attendance, as sparks or embers may be carried some distance by a sudden gust of wind and be the cause of incalculable loss to forest or crops—to say nothing of the danger to human life. When leaving camp drench water on the embers and cover with earth."

Why Windows Break.
Hard objects carried in the door pockets of sedans are liable to break the windows if they are lowered. When the door is closed it may strike the edge of the seat and bear against the door glass hard enough to break it.

Watch Gas Flow.
If your car is still new, watch the gasoline adjustment on the dash. Do not leave it rich any longer than necessary, for this would let an extra amount of gasoline get into the engine. This results in thinning the oil.

TESTS BEING MADE TO CHECK ACCIDENTS

Tests of all kinds of safety devices and means to decrease automobile accidents, are now being made by the underwriters laboratories, aided by the National Safety Council. Besides saving some 10,000 lives annually, the automobile insurance underwriters say a good set of safety devices would save millions of dollars.

Involved in the tests are laminated glass for windshield construction, windshield cleaning appliances, the construction of steering gears and the complex subject of headlamp dimmers and diffusers. At the same time, the National Safety Council through its local branches, is making a study of all traffic accidents. The application of safety appliances has been accepted by insurance companies, for reductions in insurance rates.

A boon to the motorist in cold weather is the hot water heater invented by a group of automobile engineers. It is designed to eliminate use of anti-freezing solutions or withdrawing the water on cold nights. It is automatic, keeping the water in the cooling system warm while the engine is shut off and in a cold garage.

The late car's six-cylinder French phaeton has been brought to this country and will soon be offered for sale.

PARTY PROVES TOO FAST FOR FORD GROCERY TRUCK

Norwalk, O., June 26.—A losing race between a Ford truck and a street car is attributed here to over-excitement of the truck brought on by an unexpected change in its use.

The Ford, until last Sunday, under the supervision of Richard Powers, delivered groceries about town. Last Sunday, Richard decided on a change and took the Ford out on a party jaunt to a nearby resort. With him was Miss Esther Studer, who was willing to take the chance on the Ford, in order to accompany Richard.

The ride to the resort was pleasant, the party was enjoyed and the motorists started back. But not before they had wagered with some street car fans as to who would arrive first in Norwalk.

They were off. "Richie" became excited. So did the Ford. Richie tried to slow down, but the Ford couldn't. Excitement grew when they came to a bridge crossing the Black River. Down the hill they spun, when suddenly—

Richie saw a tire roll ahead of him! It was a rear tire. Following it came

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

NO STOPPING RUTH; NEEDS ONLY EIGHT HOMERS FOR RECORD

Champion Swatter Crack- ed Out Two Circuit Hits Yesterday

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 26.—"Babe" Ruth, the New York slugger, today has eighty-seven games in which to wallop out eight home runs to shatter the record of twenty-nine established by himself last season when a member of the Boston Americans.

In his remarkable drive toward a new world's record, Ruth crashed out his twentieth homer Wednesday driving a ball off Pitcher Schocker in St. Louis into the right field bleachers, and yesterday added two more in the game with Boston, giving him a total of twenty-two.

George Sisler, the St. Louis star, who is leading the American League, boosted his average to .416—eight points within a week. Tris Speaker of Cleveland, managed to cling to second place with .384. Speaker tops the league in scoring, having counted 57 runs in 58 games. Ruth has crossed the plate 55 times in 54 games.

Rice, of Washington, is running away with honors in base stealing. He has stolen twenty-five, while Bobby Roth, his teammate, is next in line by the president of the German peace delegation.

OMAHA—Johnny Tillman, Minneapolis, and Jimmy Duffy Lockport, N. Y., fought a ten round draw.

NEW LONDON, Conn.—Harvard's Varsity crew defeated Yale over a four mile course.

LATEST STEAM CAR GETS QUICK START

Starting with a cold boiler in from 20 to 50 seconds is a feature of the latest steam automobile, the Scott-Newcomb. This eliminates one of the standard objections to this make of motor car. Besides, it is said, there is a simple control under the steering wheel, so that operations formerly done by hand are here automatic. The water and fuel pumps are driven by an electric motor and the kerosene fuel is exploded by an ordinary spark.

As high as 250 miles, it is claimed, can be had from a tank of water, due to the use of a condensing system. And the car can make 18 miles on a gallon of kerosene.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried, some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, enameled-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-checked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the inside from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of Limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; this cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

Our sixth Chautauqua closed Sunday, June 26th, after five days of excellent programs. The first day's program was given by the Clifford Trio. These clever young people presented a good entertainment composed of readings, musical selections, one act plays, and water-color sketches. A lecture was given on the evening of the first day by Dr. Nichols, a map with a pleasing personality, who held his listeners by his interesting talk, filled with humor and good sense. On the second day Ambrose Wyrick gave a recital as the prelude to both the afternoon and evening programs. He possesses a rich and beautiful tenor voice with clear enunciation. The many times he was called back to favor with encore showed the appreciation in which his entertainment was held. Miss Jeanette Kling on that day presented the play, "The Country Cousin." She was a very good reader and her interpretation of the well-known story was greatly enjoyed. The Floyds appeared on the evening program and presented their mystic entertainment. Mr. Floyd is surely an artist as a magician and was pronounced by many as the best they had ever seen. Their mysterious trunk trick still has everyone guessing. "Mohaia," who is Mrs. Floyd, was very fascinating with her accurate mind-readings. The Boston Symphony quartette appeared the third day. These four young men, pianist, cellist, and two violinists, were wonderful musicians and gave us a high-class musical entertainment. Hon. H. I. Nolan was on the evening program and gave a very good patriotic lecture, "We the People of America." He proved a very good speaker and gave us a talk filled with good things to remember. The program on the fourth day was given by Rudolph's Swiss Entertainers, a quartette of two young ladies and two young men. They were dressed in the quaint costumes of their native land. There was a novel program consisting of beautiful yodeling songs, sung in English, popular vocal and instrumental numbers, with humor mixed through the entire program. Dr. Joseph Clare gave on that day his talk on Russia, "Russia's Red Riddle." Dr. Clare spent six years in Petrograd in the very heart of the revolutionary territory and what he told us he positively knew as the truth. He was a very thrilling story and we heard many things concerning the true condition of Russia that we did not know before. The Toy-shop Pageant was given on the afternoon of the fifth and last day by the children. It was a very clever entertainment and Miss Margolis, the Junior Chautauqua lady, was congratulated on training the children so well in such a short time. The final program was considered by many the best of all. It was a light, comic opera, "The Chimes of Normandy," presented by six people. The play was made up of four acts.

Decay-Proof Fence Posts

"My fencing is up to stay—thanks to Long-Bell Creosoted Yellow Pine Posts—the kind that last a lifetime."

This is the united opinion of farm owners everywhere who are now using Long-Bell Creosoted Posts instead of the ordinary kind that rot and decay after a few years.

CREOSOTED POSTS
Yellow Pine Posts

Our posts are cut from selected trees of slow growth, air dried and yard seasoned, and treated by the Long-Bell vacuum creosoting process until distilled creosote is forced into every part of the sap wood. The germ of decay is killed, every fibre of the post is protected—there's no decay.

Send at once for Free Circular regarding "The Post Everlasting"—and learn how to end all your post and fence troubles and save from $60 up, each year now spent in repairs and replacements.

REAL ESTATE

To divide estate of Ella P. McIntyre, the undersigned will sell at Public Auction on the Premises, on

WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1920

At 2:00 o'clock, P. M.

The following described Real Estate in Mendota Township, LaSalle County, Illinois:

Southeast (1/4) One-Quarter (160 Acres, more or less) of land in Section (11) Eleven No. 36, 1st, East of the 13th P. M. Mendota Township, County of LaSalle, State of Illinois.

This farm surveys 164 acres inside the fences, 168 acres to the middle of the road, but will be sold as 160 acres more or less, which will give the buyer the advantages of this over-run.

This is located 5 1/2 miles northeast of Mendota, 2 miles south of Welland, 8 miles west of Earlville, 3 1/2 miles northwest of Meriden, 4 miles east of Henkle, in one of the best farming communities of Illinois. Improvements are large brick house of 10 rooms in good repair; new double corn crib; new granary; new hog house; barn with room for 100 tons of hay and 50 head stock, plenty of good water; nice orchard and good shade trees. This is a well located farm and a nice home.

TERMS OF SALE

A bankable note for 10% of purchase price on day of sale, said note to be without interest from day of sale until March 1st, 1921. After maturity 6% interest per annum until paid.

Balance of purchase price as follows; A loan of 50% can remain in the farm for 3 years at 5 1/2%. Balance of purchase price on March 1st, 1921, when deed and possession will be given.
